HEARING CONSERVATION PROGRAMS

Autry Technology Center and Hedges Speech and Hearing offer a variety of programs to evaluate hearing and workplace sound, as well as to address all of your sound-related issues.

Does your company have SOUND problems? Autry can provide workplace sound surveys. These surveys will evaluate your workplace to see if sound levels require protection, or if your current hearing protection is adequate for the sound in the area. We will come to your facility and put together a comprehensive survey including area monitoring or individual employee monitoring. All equipment is calibrated and traceable for compliance.

HEARING TESTING

- SMALL EMPLOYERS (<15 EMP) – Hedges Speech and Hearing is an option for baselines and annual audiograms for all employees. This provides a pre-job hearing assessment to evaluate if employees have hearing issues prior to starting at your company.
- LARGER EMPLOYERS (15+) - Autry has a new mobile testing trailer that can come to your site to provide baselines and annual audiograms for your employees—up to 12 employees per hour. This is an economical solution for testing large groups of employees with minimal interruption to your work schedule.

FULL-TIME AUDIOLOGIST REVIEW

Hedges Speech and Hearing has a full-time staff audiologist available to review any employee tests that indicate a possible hearing loss, whether tested by Autry or Hedges. Autry and your company can develop a comprehensive plan to prevent further damage. This may include re-evaluating the employees noise exposure in the workplace to identify equipment or processes that can be targeted for sound insulation or other corrective measures.
